

2006/2007 INSIDER REPORT

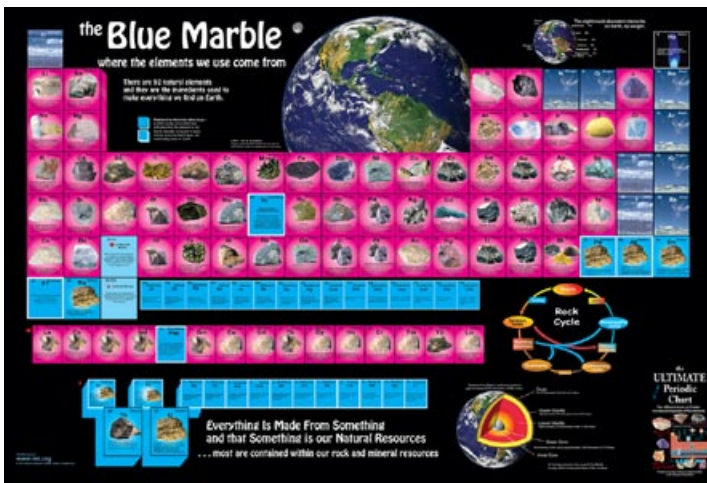

THOUSANDS OF TEACHERS REQUEST NEW PERIODIC CHART

Mii's new Ultimate Periodic Chart, released in December 2006, has been a great success. More than two thousand teachers have already asked to receive a copy for their classroom.

What makes this chart unique is that we printed another Periodic Chart on the back side with 103 gorgeous color photos of the minerals that provide the elements we use. Plus, it's printed on vinyl so it's almost indestructible in the classroom.

A teacher from New Orleans wrote:

"Thank you. After the storm we can use a chart like this. I lost a lot of science materials."

36" by 54"

What if mii could provide a chart to every high school science teacher in the area affected by Katrina? (We can if we get the donations to support the program.) There are 82 public high schools in twelve parishes (56,000 students) still recovering from Katrina. We are already working with the science coordinator for St. Tammany Parish to provide materials to their 52 schools that serve nearly 20% of the total state's student population— 11 are high schools.

Call mii if you're interested in helping fund part or all of this important project.

INFORMATION YOU CAN USE IN THE CLASSROOM

There's great information on the mii Website for you to use in your outreach efforts. The pages are chocked full of materials to help you when you're going into the classroom to talk about mining. Plus, there's more information on how mii can partner with your company to provide materials in locations important to your business.

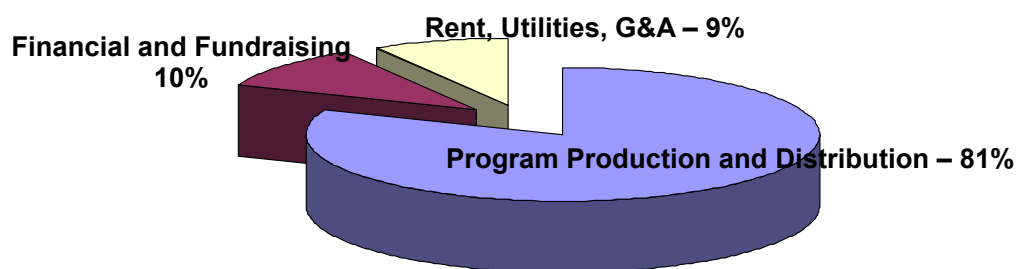

Let mii help you spread the word about the importance of mining – check out the new pages at www.mii.org.

MII PUTS YOUR DONATION TO WORK

Mii keeps overhead low so that the donations received are spent on delivering programs to teachers, students and others interested in learning more about rocks, minerals, mining and the environment.

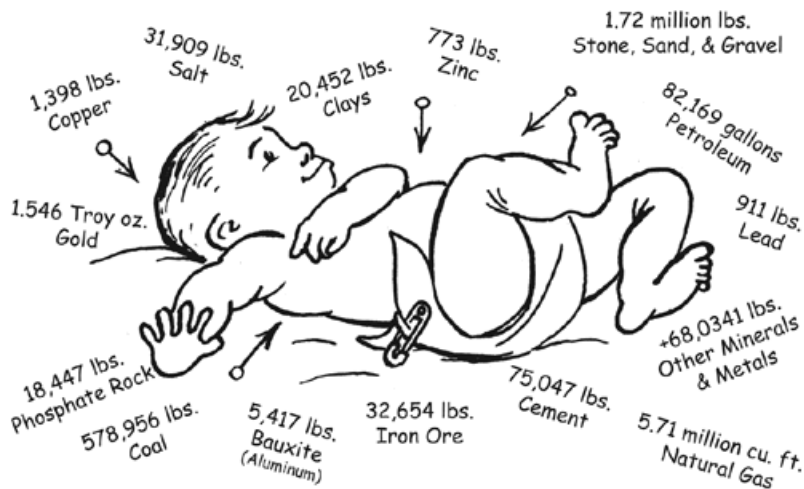

Overhead at mii is consistently less than 20%.

According to the Better Business Bureau's Wise Giving Alliance, administrative costs should be less than 35%. Your donation goes a lot further at mii!

NEW MII BABY RELEASED

Every American Born Will Need . . .

3.7 million pounds of minerals, metals, and fuels in their lifetime

© 2007, Mineral Information Institute

The mii Baby has become one of the most recognized symbols of mii's activities. In fact, it's in the top 5 downloaded items from the mii Website this past year. It's become so well known that it even appears on other company and organization Websites across the country. The Baby has a great message – one that we like to spread far and wide.

This year's Baby shows that maintaining the American standard of living required 7.1 billion tons of rocks and minerals last year to make the things we use and depend upon every day.

Download your copy of the updated mii Baby from our Website, www.mii.org. New mii Baby cards are also available – order yours today! 100 cards for $25.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR DONATION YET?

Successes Just Keep Coming . . .

. . . and we need your HELP

Teachers are asking for more than we can provide, and we need your help.

This year we have already mailed 34,500 packets to meet teacher requests and we are now getting school district science curriculum coordinators asking to receive materials for every school and sometimes every science teacher in their districts.

We don't want to start telling teachers and schools No, you can't get information about the importance of mining but we may have to do that until we can refill our inventories.

Our cost is still an amazingly low $5 per packet delivered to a teacher. But when you deal on a national scale like we do, the response from teachers adds up to 30,000 packets a year pretty easily. And that doesn't count the 126,000 packets (with 5.3 million pages) that will be downloaded by teachers from our Website.

Inventory is almost gone!

We appreciate your past support of mii and hope you can renew your contribution this year.
